

Finally, several of the maps and figures in this document were originally created in color. However, the printed document was not able to reproduce the color format of these figures and, therefore, some figures are somewhat difficult to interpret. Readers and reviewers interested in examining the figures in their original color format are referred to <http://www.nefmc.org/documents/scallops/> or they may request copies of specific color figures from the Council office.

Because of the multiple purposes of this document, the crosswalk below is intended to help the reader identify the portions of the document that satisfy specific legal requirements. Readers may find this supplemental TOCs related to specific applicable laws affecting fisheries management useful in identifying how the document satisfies the content requirements of individual laws.
